NORTH IDAHO FARM STANDS

SMALL FARMS
MAKE UP
25%
OF ALL U.S. FARMS

WHAT'S A SMALL FARM?

- An agricultural enterprise in which the owner is actively engaged in the day-to-day operations; i.e. has their feet on the ground, hands in the soil.
- A farm whose end-user is known, whose products feed the local community to which the farmers themselves belong.
- A parcel of productive land at a scale no larger than one person can know intimately by simply walking through it.
- A farm business whose profits stay in the community.

“

ONE OF THE KEY SOLUTIONS TO A SECURE FOOD SYSTEM IS MORE AND MORE LOCAL, SMALL FARMS.
